Louisville Manufactures.

GUMMUTS. Although this has long been a large market for the sale of guns, pistols, and other articles pertaining to the armory, it is reported that it has unfortunately been once devoted to Eastern work. It may not be invidious here to mention a few facts, and intrude a few remarks, in regard to the feeling which exists among traders and jobbers in this matter. Eastern work is preferred to home-made goods, and it is reported that either in durability or finish, but simply because agents, and others in the interests of Eastern manufacturers, have pushed their wares by every means, legitimate advertisement and unfair chicanery, before the people. There is no Eastern work sold here which is superior to that which is manufactured here, and which is sold at less than the lowest prices. Manufacturers, moreover, are not content to let their work rest on its own merits, but must push it forward as Eastern work, and with the Eastern standard upon it. Thus we find goods made here sold as New York files. Jewellers find it profitable to have their silversware made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of shoes find it profitable to have their shoes made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of hats find it profitable to have their hats made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of clothing find it profitable to have their clothing made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of furniture find it profitable to have their furniture made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of hardware find it profitable to have their hardware made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of iron and steel find it profitable to have their iron and steel made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of machinery find it profitable to have their machinery made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of electrical appliances find it profitable to have their electrical appliances made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of building materials find it profitable to have their building materials made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of agricultural implements find it profitable to have their agricultural implements made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of transportation equipment find it profitable to have their transportation equipment made here and stamped with the name of New York. Manufacturers of miscellaneous goods find it profitable to have their miscellaneous goods made here and stamped with the name of New York.

Improved Dentistry.—Messrs. Fritz and Fulton, dentists, advertise for artificial teeth, a recent invention, and best in use. They are both practical and scientific, and advise all interested to give them a call at their office on Fifth street, next to the cathedral.

Dr. Stone.—A hold thief slipped into the hands of Mr. W. Marbury, in Jeffersonville, a day or two since, and finding it for valuable. He was rewarded by receiving $100 in bills, which he had carried, undetected. The front door was unlocked, so he got in without trouble.

Thanks to Adams' Express for Cincinnati and Nashville papers.

PATENT ISSUED.—To Lewis Duvall, of Big Spring, Ky., for cement roofing.

Nat. Gaither, ex., the talented Representative elect from Adams, is in the city stopping at the National.

APPOINTMENT BY THE GOVERNOR.—E. E. Laverling, of this city, has been appointed Aid to the Governor, with the rank of Colonel.

Hon. Amos Kendall, the old Postmaster General, reached his seventieth year on the 30th ult. He was visited on that day by many of his old personal and political friends.

W. W. Weston, who was suddenly shot at Hopkinsville, by Capt. Jackson, is not the son-in-law of Hon. Warner L. Underwood, of Russellville, as has been stated.

PROTRACTED MEETING IN THE UNION TRUST.—A union protracted meeting commences today, Preaching three times a day. By Rev. Mr. Owens, 11 o'clock; Mr. Robinson, at 2 o'clock, and Mr. Morrison, at half-past 7 o'clock, to-night.

A boy named Quinley took the thumb and forefinger of his right hand taken off yesterday, for the robbery of a small bagging factory. The poor boy lost three fingers of his left hand, in the same way, some time since.

A city official let his pistol fall on the pavement near the police office, yesterday, and it discharged itself with a loud report. About five hundred fellows immediately rushed to the spot, expecting to see a man wounded, dead, or dying. We are mercenary people.

OVER.—Trotter went off finely last night.—Paroli took the character of Arizona on the occasion, and rendered the most effective and dramatic effect which has given her a world-wide fame. She would have done better in the part of Leonora, which she sang so effectively during the last visit of the Strakosch troupe. The character of Leonora was taken by Signora Alamo, who gave considerable satisfaction to the audience. She has a good voice and sings with considerably less effect. Signora Alamo's name pleasure to the audience last night that he did on his first appearance. He has a good voice and sings, and is not a little feeling. Signora Goode has a most excellent voice. In some of his solos he made the best impressions of the evening.

To-night is positively the last night of the Paroli troupe. The form of the opera of Leonora, which is comparatively fresh here. Paroli, Striglione, Goode and Bartoli, all appear.

S. F. FAIR—HALF DAY TO CHICAGO.—Those who wish to attend the U. S. National Fair at Chicago, which commences on Monday next, can go and return for half price by the New Albany and Salem Railroad. We learn from our hand-some friend Barker, the agent, that tickets for this purpose will be issued from this day as may be required.
